Current Los Angeles Contemporary Exhibitions: Doug Simay's Best Picks

Miyoshi Barosh at Luis De Jesus Los Angeles (Bergamot Station, through April 9).

This exhibition skillfully blends the work of Barosh, Nena Amsler, and Nava Lubelski under an overarching use of cloth, thread, fabric-like imitations. The range of approaches to materials, the intensity each artist brings to their work, and the commonality bound by thread makes for another refreshing exhibition. Taste and quality are an unbeatable combination.
